"I contacted a couple of local suppliers before Mole Energy came to have a look at the site. While their quotes were similar, their knowledge and passion stood Mole Energy apart from the competition. When Tim visited us, he had lots of answers, was very capable and really seemed to know what he was doing. Mole Energy were able to do things in parallel with our building project, so it wasn't a stress to get the solar panels put on and there were no additional costs. I was able to have discussions with the team on a technical level, so I always felt confident that I was doing the right thing. I have recommended Mole Energy to others. Their team are easy to work with, have a great level of technical know-how and delivered with no problems."

"Solar energy has been an absolute no-brainer for us. We have cut our energy bills by approximately £8,000 in a year. That's £200,000 over 25 years based on past prices! It makes total economic sense. If I were asked whether I would use Mole Energy again, I would have no hesitation in saying 'yes'. They made installing panels easy; making all the arrangements, keeping us up-to-date, organising all the paperwork and seeing the work through to completion. Throughout, the service has been second to none and we have also got to know the team personally. They are so easy to deal with; down to earth and approachable. Not only that, but we have reduced our CO₂ emissions by nearly 32,000kg in the same time period!"
